

I believe that the less calls telemarketers can make, the better. No one wants to be bothered by those calls. It is a waste of time to the person being called as well as to the telemarketer. I always hang up on them before they even get into what their calling about. We NEED to keep the state law in place as is. It works very well. I do not want the Federal law in place since it gives telemarketers much more freedom to bother citizens at night with their pointless calls.
